

Daniel Rapoport, MD, FRCSC

Clinical Instructor

MD 2003 – UBC Medical School

FRCSC 2008 – UBC Department of Urologic Sciences

Fellowship in Reconstructive Urology 2009 – Duke University
Medical Center

Dr. Daniel Rapoport graduated from the UBC Urology Residency Program in 2008. He practices Urology with a special interest in reconstructive urological surgery in men and women. He works at Richmond Hospital, UBC Hospital and the Bladder Care Center.

Dr. Rapoport completed his fellowship in Reconstructive Urology, Neurourology and Urodynamics at Duke University in North Carolina in 2008-2009.

Dr. Rapoport's areas of interest include:

- Male Reconstructive Urology:
 - Urethral stricture disease
 - Urethral disruption
 - Post-prostatectomy (and other) male incontinence, Fistulae
- Female Reconstructive Urology:
 - Incontinence
 - Pelvic organ prolapsed
 - Fistulae
 - Urethral diverticulae
 - Excision of eroded vaginal mesh
- Urodynamics
- Neurogenic bladder