Dr. David Wilkie grew up in Vancouver, completed his medical degree at UBC, and then interned in New Zealand and England. He completed his residency in Obstetrics and Gynaecology at the University of British Columbia. Subspecialty training in Urogynaecology followed at St. George's Hospital Medical School in London, England. He is a fellow of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada.

Dr. Wilkie is a member of the International Continence Society (ICS), the International Urogynaecologic Association (IUGA) and the American Urogynecologic Society (AUGS). He is the past vice-president of the Society of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists of Canada (SOGC) and is past president of the Canadian Society for the Urogynaecologic and Reconstructive Pelvic Surgery (CSURPS). He continues as a committee member.

Dr. Wilkie has a private practice on Vancouver's West-side and investigates patients at the Bladder Care Centre at UBC Hospital, part of Vancouver Coastal Health Authority. He is active in teaching UBC medical students and residents in his field of Urogynaecology.

As a clinician and researcher, Dr. Wilkie presents his findings on incontinence and prolapse surgery at conferences nationally and internationally. He has extensive experience with the surgery for prolapse (protrusion of vaginal tissues) and incontinence (leakage of urine with coughing and sneezing). He has introduced several newer minimally-invasive surgical techniques to avoid hospitalization.
